SOCIAL EVENTS OF THE WEEK

There is one place towards which the attention of the people of this city who like to do a little good at this season of the year may be well directed. This is in the direction of the Kapiolani Home, where the girls from Molokai are housed and cared for on the miserable pittance which is allowed by the Territory. So small is the allowance for their care that when it comes to clothes and the actual necessities of life there is not enough to go round and as far for luxuries these are out of the question. It has been proposed that a Christmas tree would be something which these children, many of whom have never even owned a rag doll in their lives, would enjoy. Cannot some of the kindly hearts of this city reach out to their purses and make the little ones happier.

The children are cared for by the Catholic sisters, but creed has nothing to do with this matter and the members of all religions should combine to see that these children are given one day of such pleasure as they have never before enjoyed. A visit to the institution would show the work which is being done far better than it can ever be described. But this is not the idea of this paragraph. The Star will be glad to receive any contributions which may be made, whether in money, which can be expended for Christmas gifts by those in charge, or in actual gifts, such as dolls, perfume, little dainty articles of dress, ribbons or any of the smaller, inexpensive articles which each mother knows that a child will enjoy.

The engagement has been announced of Miss Grace Hortense Tower, of Pasadena, California, to John Tremholm Warren, of this city. Miss Tower is very well known here, where she has spent two of her summer vacations in resting from her literary labors and also in accumulating material for further work. She is an exceedingly talented little lady, whose personality is such that she has friends wherever she goes. They may be numbered by the score in this city. Mr. Warren is certainly to be congratulated upon gaining the consent of such a clever and charming helpmate for his future life.

The second performance of "The Miser's Mill" which was given at the Opera House last Saturday afternoon was just as good as the one the night before and Honolulu must render many thanks to Hilo for the pleasurable entertainment. The charming operetta was composed by Mrs. Henry Hayes, of Hilo, while the performance was conducted by Mrs. Jarrett T. Lewis, of the same city. It is many a day since local talent has been placed before the public in a more charming manner, being first given the proper setting and then the training needed to make the audience thoroughly enjoy the performances.

From 11 o'clock this morning till 8:30 tonight the St. Elizabeth's Fair will attract many to 730 King street. The number of small but very useful articles which can be obtained there for Christmas gifts is surprising and reflects great credit on the managers of the affair.

"The Quartermaster's Department has entered on the purchase of polo ponies for use at Army posts, the contractor having failed to furnish the horses that were specified. The government will buy in the open market after very careful inspection. It was this week reported that there had been gathered at various points in eastern California upward of 400 ponies and the work of inspecting and choosing has begun. These ponies will be supplied to Army posts as rapidly as they are inspected and purchases are made. The amount of the government purchase will be $37, that being the number out of 500 on which the contractor failed."

The above items from the Army and Navy Journal illustrates what Honolulu may expect from the coming of the two squadrons of the Fifth Cavalry, Polo, in which our local society takes the greatest of interest, should spring into such prominence as it has never seen before. With the presence of the officers of the Fifth here we should be able to pick a team which will hold its own against any fine polo players in the United States.

Miss Juanita and Miss Helen Humphrey, daughters of Major Gen. and Mrs. Humphrey, gave a beautiful luncheon Nov. 19 at the Chevy Chase Country Club, Washington, D. C., in honor of Miss Helen Hatfield, whose bridesmaid Miss Helen Humphrey will be. The guests were seated at a round table. The centerpiece was a wedding bell of yellow chrysanthemums, from which trailed smilax ropes to the corners of the table. The candles and cakes were yellow, complimentary to the branch of the Service to which the bride will belong, while the fees were in the form of slippers tied with yellow satin bows. The place cards were attached to favors which caused great merriment, being small dolls dressed in the most up-to-date of sheath gowns of white satin, long court trains and tulle veils. Beside the guest of honor were Miss Phelps, the maid of honor; Miss Knox, who is to be a bridesmaid; Miss Carrie Murray, Miss Dorothy Williams, Miss Harriet Hatch, Miss Aleshire, and Miss Annie Irwin, all debutantes of the season, and Miss Sadie Murray and Miss Katherine Cibaugh.

Major Gen. and Mrs. Charles F. Humphrey, U. S. A., who have decided upon Washington as their winter home, have taken 1620 Eighteenth street for their residence. Miss Humphrey and Miss Helen Humphrey, who have been in Washington very little during the past two years, are now here with their parents. Capt. Evan H. Humphrey, Q. M. Dept., who has been ordered to Washington for duty, will join the family early in December.—Army and Navy Journal.

Invitations are out to the wedding of Miss Ethelinda Schaefer and Alfred Lowrey Castle, which will take place at St. Andrew's Cathedral on Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock. The bride is handsome, charming and clever and the groom, while newly admitted to practice in the local bar has already won his spurs by obtaining a decision before the Supreme Court in a case in which far more experienced attorneys were opposed to him. Both are favorites in local society and will make a most welcome addition to the young married set of the city, thus increasing a circle for which Honolulu has long been noted.

Numerous cablegrams of congratulation will leave this city on Monday morning bearing good wishes to J. Hastings Howland and Miss Allie May Holt, who will be wedded in the famous Ruggles Street Church in Roxbury, Mass., at 4 o'clock in the afternoon. Mr. Howland spent many years in this city, being the second in charge of the Department of Public Works under the Carter regime and being prominent in lodge and club circles. He is gifted with a magnificent bass voice, which was heard to advantage many times in this city both on the stage and in the choir of the Central Union Church. His bride is also gifted in this line, being a contralto singer of very high reputation even in Boston, the musical center of the United States. It is to be hoped that Honolulu will be favored by a visit from the newly married couple before long and musical circles in particular will welcome them.

Miss Leontine Hartnagle, the sister of Mrs. Clinton C. G. Ballentyne, will be married to Dr. Finlay on December 8 at her brother's home in Seattle. Miss Hartnagle visited her sister here for about a year.

The Memorial Service of the local lodge of Elks, which will be held in the Opera House tomorrow afternoon, will collect a very large gathering of Elks and also of others who appreciate the beauty of this ceremony which is held annually. The Elks are known as a lodge of good fellows who enjoy their fraternal life more openly than most societies and the true meaning of their teachings is seldom seen except by the members themselves. At their memorial service alone it is seen in public.

The wedding of Miss Julie Damon and Mr. Harold Giffard, both very wellknown members of local society circles, took place last Saturday evening at the residence of the bride's brother on Thurston avenue. There were but few invited to witness the ceremony outside of the relatives of the bride and groom, the service being read by Rev. Doremus Scudder. Miss Vera Damon, a cousin of the bride, acted as the maid of honor and the bridegroom was attended by Mr. Eugene Campbell. The house was very prettily decorated in green and white and Mr. Giffard in his new helpmate received one of the handsomest brides of the season.

Mrs. F. M. Wakefield, of Hilo, was among those to return from the Coast by the Alameda yesterday. All Honolulu people deeply sympathize with her in her recent bereavement.

Miss Helen K. Wilder returned from a long stay on the Coast by the Alameda yesterday. We still look on Miss Wilder as belonging to Hawaii, though she really makes her home in California.

The dance to be given at the Moana Hotel this evening by the Myrtle Boat club should be very largely attended, as the members of this club are numerous and belong to the best families in the city. The dining room will hardly be large enough to accommodate the crowd which will be on hand from the number who have promised attendance and all who go will surely have a good time. The patronesses of the evening are: Mrs. S. B. Doie, Mrs. Dunning, Mrs. Edward Tenney, Mrs. George Herbert, Mrs. A. G. Hawes, Jr.; Mrs. M. M. Giffard, Mrs.

James Judd, Mrs. Gerrit Wilder, Mrs. Walter Hoffmann, Mrs. Selden Kingsbury, Mrs. Charles Foster, Mrs. A. A. Wilder, Mrs. John Soper, Mrs. T. J. King, Mrs. Augustus Murphy, Mrs. Charles Chillingworth, Mrs. Fred Damon, Mrs. Alice M. Hastings, Mrs. Elizabeth Church, Mrs. Mary Gunn, Mrs. George Potter, Mrs. W. W. Harris, Mrs. Charles Lucas, Mrs. McStocker, Mrs. Gussie Schmidt, Mrs. E. I. Spalding, Mrs. J. F. Morgan, Mrs. J. S. Walker, Mrs. Charles Wilder and Mrs. H. V. Murray.

Major F. W. Foster, Fifth Cavalry, was an arrival on the Alameda, accompanied by Mrs. Foster. The major has come in advance of his regiment to act on the board which will pick out the site for the cantonment at Lihueh. He and his lady will be very welcome to local society circles.

Captain C. J. Castner and Captain Sturges were among the military men to arrive on the Alameda with whom local people will soon get acquainted and whom we shall have with us for at least two years to come.

Miss B. Helen Skelly, who has been here for several months on her second visit to Honolulu, was booked to sail by the Korea this morning. Miss Skelly is one of the prettiest girls ever seen in local society.

Mrs. F. G. Bland and her two charming daughters passed through on the Korea bound for their home in Pasadena. On their way to the Orient they dallied in this city for several months and while they were guests at the Pleasanton made a great many friends. The Bland girls were experts in many lines which are always attractive. Both were excellent musicians both vocal and instrumental, and also enjoyed tennis and horseback riding, being in a class by themselves in these latter sports.

Dr. McCallum, who has been stationed at Fort Shafter for some time and who recently has been slightly ill in San Francisco, is expected to return to this city by the Mongolia. Mrs. McCallum has gone back to Kansas city for a short visit to her family and will then come back to Honolulu, where she has very many friends.

The Faxon Bishops are expected back very soon, after their long trip through Europe during which they toured France and Switzerland in automobiles. Mrs. Bishop has been remaining in San Francisco with friends while her husband made a short business trip to the Northwestern cities.

Miss Anna Rose gave a very pleasant poi supper at her Beretania residence on Friday evening. The good old Hawaiian dishes were served in the prettiest of style and all those present enjoyed themselves in a manner which is only found with so gracious a hostess.

The many friends of Charles H. George, 2nd, in this city will be sorry to hear that he leaves for his home in Providence, R. I., by the Alameda on Wednesday. During the past two years which he has spent in this city, both in business and in a social way, he has been wellknown and very well liked. His recent serious illness, which kept him confined to his bed for several weeks, is the chief cause of his return to his home for a rest and vacation. Mr. George is a member of the University Club of this city, as a graduate of Brown, where he was very prominent in athletics, being a member of the strongest baseball team of which the Providence college has been able to boast.

A large assembly vested the opening of the Kiloahua Art League's thirty-first semi-annual exhibition on Monday night. Mr. D. Howard Hitchcock was chairman of the reception committee, assisted by the contributors cordially welcoming the coming and farewelling the departing guests. A corps of smiling girls and boys kept cold lemonade in circulation the whole evening.

It is one of the largest exhibitions ever made by the League, the number of works coming near 150. Several new exhibitors appear. Among these is L. Marsh Hale, a recent arrival, who shows many California views characterized by a soft finish and a dreamy impression. The subdued tints of his landscapes form an agreeable foil to the brilliancy of color in the Hawaiian scenes of others among which they are distributed. It is the difference in nature between here and elsewhere, the intensity of bright coloring on earth, foliage, flowers and even fish in Hawaii being unbelievable to artists and others until their own eyes have seen it.

Probably between two and three hundred people came and went in the course of the evening. Among the early visitors were Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Dillingham, Mrs. Hyde-Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Gerrit P. Wilder, Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Gurrey, Dr. and Mrs. C. B. Cooper, R. S. Hosmer, Mrs. Hosmer, Senator C. H. Dickey, Mrs. Simpson, Mrs. W. B. Thomas, Captain and Mrs. Moses, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Hall, Miss Hall, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Livingston, Mr. and Mrs. R. Buchly, Mr. and Mrs. D. Howard Hitchcock, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Graham, D. Logan, the Misses Logan, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Rhodes, W. C. Parke, Miss Parke, Mrs. A. Lewis, Mrs. Hanks, Miss Church, Miss Townsend, Miss Carden, Mr. J. Catton, D. L. Austin, T. Sharp, E. H. Gurrey, Dr. Rodgers, Mr. C. Jenkins, Mr. Roscoe Perkins, Mr. W. E. Wall, Mr. H. W. Francis, Mr. R. O. Matheson.

D. Howard Hitchcock, "our own artist" and father of the League, as usual furnishes the backbone of the exhibit. He has drawn largely from Kanae, "the garden island," but the sublime scenery of Maui and Hawaii is again the source of many inspirations of his brush. Among his more noticeable
